

Re: 07:57

Dear FCC commissioners,

I wish to voice my support for the Sirius and XM merger. It's my belief that if these companies merge, there would not be a monopoly in radio. There are many free radio stations in America, and there are very few places without radio coverage. How can there be a monopoly if there is competition that is totally free for the public? Also, there are MP3s and HD FM. In addition, I believe the argument made by NAB that the prices would raise for subscribers is false. If prices go up, satellite listeners would go back to free radio.

Disclosure: I am a Sirius subscriber and shareholder.

Sincerely,
